Deadlines #53

Office Hours

Sorry, but is there any way some of the deadlines can be moved back or consolidated? To be honest, there have been a lot of projects and homeworks assigned at the same time between the two classes and I have been rather overwhelmed trying to do them all. I have been meaning to come into office hours to discuss this, but they overlap with my work schedule. I was planning to start the projects over spring break but the instruction sheet wasn't posted until after the break and I have also been dealing with mental health issues since then. I wasn't sure how many homeworks are remaining or if some of them are being combined?
